Any the Constitution and the acts of him who is spectacles, at least such as this county presents, could improve his sight. We can only beyond anything on earth. Of course, in making such a distinction, it must be right to condemn one or the other, since two such opposites cannot both be right, and the wide the difference between the two the more bit terly we must condemn one or the other. Perhaps, if we had been brought to despise as an old fogy instrument, the Constitution got up by such incompetents as George Wash ington and James Madison, in the plenitude of our superior knowledge we might have been in favor of letting the Constitution slide though, owing doubtless to our limited facul ties, we cannot believe even that possible, or state of mind could exist in which we would not admire the patriots of the revolution.

To us it appears that Mr. Lincoln has wilfully broken the Constitution and should b denounced for it and punished for it.

Those who think differently can follow their own course; and if they choose to butt their brains out against the popular will, we think the quantity of the article spilled will be small.

We are told that there is no power to put down the rebellion but the Administration, and that the condemnation of its measure weakens the power. That is all a fallacy. It is the measures them selves that weaken the power to deal with the rebellion, not any condemnation of them. The Administration has directed its skill and energy to aid the rebellion. We affirm this because it is so, and our silence will not make were westing money in feeding contrabands, It otherwise.

If we have a cherished object on earth, it is a restoration of the Union, and we shall denounce all measures and practices that throw

THE MISSISSIPPI VALLEY GRAND CAMPAIGN The opening of the Mississippi river is now the grand object which occupies the attention of both the Union and rebel armies. The former is determined to open the navigation of the river, while the latter, as evinced in the proclamation of Jeff. brought by mounted orderlies from Russell-ville. There appears to be great mismanage-ment in the postal arrangements somewhere along the route from here to Louisville. Like Jonathan, we might make a guess as to who is the faulty Postmaster, but refrain from so doing, for fear we might be mistaken and injure an honest man. Letters are delayed for days on the route, and sometimes coming straggling in weeks behind the date. Every mail we find letters for regiments at Murfreesboro and Vicksburg. What somebody means by continually sending them here, is more than we are able to determine. Tonight we received a crowded mail-bag, and, upon examination, found that a half bushel of the letters were directed to Gallatin. There is such a similarity in the names of Clarksville and Gallatin that the Postmaster might have mistaken one for the other; therefore he is exonathan, we might make a guess as to who is istaken one for the other; therefore he is ex usable for the mistake. If the regular Post flice was open here, it would be quite differ ent, and blunders pardonable; but knowing it to be only a military line, we cannot see why any man with an ounce of brains should send letters here that are intended for different of fices and different commands.

Fooling the Rebels.

Our army above Vicksburg does not appear to be without its amusements. A recent let ter says:

A most ludicrous affair has occurred to liven the monotony of the siege. A flat boat was rigged into a resemblance of a gunboat a board whee! house was created on its side; a buge Quaker gun mounted on either end, and chimneys, all in the proper position, extempo-rized with turrets. About midnight, of the same night the ram came up, the bogus gun-boat, christened the Lackawana, was pushed into the channel, and sent down stream. As she approached the upper water battery, a sig-nal was fired from the forts above the city, the the heights from battery to battery, all the way to Warrenton. As she floated leisurely and to Warrenton. As she floated leisurely and lazily along, a tremendous cannonade was opened upon her. At one point the current took her near the shore; a volley of musketry and field pieces was poured into her; but on sne went. In the darkness and fog, the Lackswana drifted down below Vicksburg, and, by some freak of the current, was brought into an eddy and drifted to the shore, where she lodged. In the alternoon some rascal put her adrift and affoat again. As she floated out from shore into the river the batteries opposite the mouth of the canal opened upon her, keeping up the fire until she approached Warrenton. The captured ram got up steam Warrenton. The captured ram got up steam and took to her heels with all of her cele-brated speed. The Warrenton batteries took up the fight of the batteries above, and as far down as we could hear the reports of their ar tillery, she was the object of rebel gunnery.

that place was reogcupled, as we are informed, two days thereafter. Morgan's men are in that region, and will harass the line from Eadyville to Bradyville, as far as it extends. They have already captured more than three hundred prisoners, thirty wagons and a thousand horses, mules and beef cattle. We have no further particulars from Fort Donelson and Dover.

Then overcome by her indignation, she suddenly slapped the speculator, first on one cheek, then on the other, and before the fellow could say a word the passengers sitting near, who had witnessed the whole affair, seized him and pushed him hurriedly out of the car, as one not fit to ride with deepth people. — Evaning Post. with decent people.—[Evening Post.
The Post ought to have told the rest of this story. This same speculator believes that all who pray for peace ought to be hung; he has contributed to a fund to carry the New Hampshire and Connecticut elections for the Administration; he asserts Generals Porter and McClellan are traitors; he believes in the proclamation and the confiscation act, and swears the poor woman who lost her sons is a copperhead of the most virulent type, and would serve the Post people as she did the speculator if she got within the same distance of their ears.—[N. SLAVERY IN ILLINOIS.—The laws of Illinois are very scrict, but not more so than the people approve (as was demonstrated in the election last summer), against the immigration of free negroes to that State. A Justice of the Peace in Carthage, Hancock county, lately tried six negro men on a charge of high misdemenor, in having remained in the State and county for ten days and more with the evident intention of taking up a permagnet reaidence. We publish this week what is called the new military law of the State of Lousians. NAVY SIGNALS.—In the capture of the Harriet Lane at Galveston, it will be remembered, a copy of the revised signal book of the navy fell into the hands of the rebels. Another of these important books fell into their hands with the ran Queen of the West. When the ram was abandoned, the signal book was left lying on Col. Ellet's table, and doubtless by this time it is in Richmond. By its aid, the rebels can learn the meaning of every flag displayed on a Federal war vessel.

The signal book is usually kept in a canvas bag, to which a leaden weight is attached, so that in case the ship is captured by the enemy, it can be thrown overboard and sunk. It seems to us that a much safer and better way would be to devise a code of signals which would be to devise a code of signals which could be changed at the option of the Admiral, and understood only by those to whom the "signal key" should be communicated. Such a system could be easily devised.

The government of Austria, we also bound to say, has alone manifested uneasiness at the existing condition of things, and shown from time to time an unmistakable desire to make amends, if any one could show her how to do so. It has repeatedly been stated in public, by men of high integrity and the best means of information, that during the negotiations for the quadruple alliance in 1854, means of information, that during the negotiations for the quadruple alliance in 1854, this desire was expressed in very significant terms, and the western powers were given to understand that if the defense of Turkey were to be coupled with the restoration of Poland, Austria would look very differently, and with very good reason, on the threatened resentment of Russia should she take part in the war. It may be true, indeed, as Lord Palmerston has lately intimated, that no such proposal was ever officially made. It would, indeed, have been very extraordinary if it had, considering the indisposition shown by French and English diplomacy to entertain it. It will remain for Northern hands to rebuild what Southern treason has been the means of It will remain for Northern hands to rebuild what Southern treason has been the means of destroying. Such will be the case, not alone with Coriuth, but throughout the whole South. "The Union as it was" is an utter impossibility. We could not have it so if we would. The war will, from its very nature, produce a social revolution in the South.

The South will eventually become "Northernized" by it: it has already commenced in

This revolution or "Northernization" of feeling will spread until the whole South will become its most ardent converts; and those are now living who will see the day when the greatest anti-slavery men will be found in the States that once were the greatest advocates of

A Sign.—Jeff. Davis has appointed the 27th instant as a day of fasting and prayer throughout the so-called "Confederate States." This is a good sign; for it shows that Jeff. again considers his cause in a bad way. After the loss of forts Henry and Donelson, Roanoke Island, Nashville, &c., he appointed a day of fasting and prayer, and another after the loss of New Oricans and Norfolk, and so on. It is evident, therefore, that the chief of the rebellion is again in a despairing frame of mind, and feels in his bones that his "Confederacy" is now in greater danger than ever before, and that terrible times of trial, fire and brimstone, are coming, and no mistake.—[Chicago Post.

The Burlington (Vt.) Free Press has a letter from a member of the Ninth Vermont Regiment who is employed in the hospital at Camp Douglas, Chicago, where the rebel prisoners captured at Arkansas Post are kept, which says:

I suppose that you would be much surprised it you should see the loads of dead bodies go out of camp. The rebels are dying very fast; the wave sent that have died in one day is fifteen. It seems as if they were all doomed to die, for as a soon as a dead one is taken out of the hospital, a sick one takes his place; and it has been so ever since they came here. I think the cold climate that kills them off so fast; they die mostly of paeumonia.

His physical system had been, for about ten years was the sufferer had borne his afflictions with marked patience and Christal fortitude. At the beginning of his afflictions, hi Heavenly Father had gracious y bestowed on him the pearl of great price—an interest in Jesus—which so we qualified him to undergo the baptism of suffering through which he had to puss, and from which he was only delivered by death. In his last illness, when quee tioned as to the state of his mind, he promptly exc aimed "would not live always."

"I would not live always." No. He des red to depart and be with Jesus, which was far better. His spirit has returned to the God why gave it; his body sleeps in hope of the glorious resurrection which awaits the redeemed. Though his presence is greatly missed by his fond parents (for the hearts had been warmly attached to their little sufferer, yet they have the coosolation that their sorrow is not a those who have no hope. "For if we believe that Jesu filled and rose again, them that sleep in Jesus wil Gooring unto him."

AMERICAN WATCHES

FOR SOLDIERS AT REDUCED PRICES.

American Watches for Americans!

THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY give notice that they have lately issued a new style of Watch. expressly designed for Soldiers and others who desire a good watch at a moderate price. These watches are intended to Swiss manufacture with which the country is flooded and which were never expected to keep time when they were made, being refuse manufactures sent to this ntry because unsalable at home and used here only for JOCKEYING and SWINDLING purposes. We offer to sell our Watch, which is of THE MOST SUB TANTIAL MANUFACTURE, AN ACCURATE AND DURABLE IMEREEPER, and in Sterling Silver cases. Hunting pa tern, at as low a price as is asked for the trashy Ancres and LAPINES of foreign make already referred to We have named the new series of Watches, WILLIAM ELLERY, Boston, Mass., which name will be found on the plate of every watch of this manufacture, and is one of our trademarks.

Thomas Brown's Report.

NEW YORK, March 11. New York, March 11.

A Tribune Washington special says: Thos. Brown, who was sent as special agent of the Treasury Department to the Paelfic to investigate various questions that have arisen on that coast, has presented an elaborate report, accompanied by a large mass of testimony. It is understood that the evidence which Mr. Brown submits shows that Robert Stevens, superintendent of the mint at San Francisco, has appointed or retained in office dishonest or vicious men. Tae proof is so strong that he will probably be removed.

The report, although it does not impute to Ira P. Rankin, Collector of San Francisco, malfeasance in office, makes disclosures which may lead to his rejection.

COLDWATER RIVER, MISS., March 1, } via Cairo, March 10. An expedition left Moon Lake Wednesday morning, reaching the end of the Pass yesterday noon—twelve miles in three days and a half. The boats were much broken in their light upper works, but not one damaged in the hull or machinery. The most difficult portion of the trip is overcome. It is the grand-tion of the trip is overcome. It is the grand-est achievement of the war. Any one who had seen the Pass before the expedition en-tered it, could never have supposed a fleet of steamers could possibly pass through it. Sol-diers and seamen occupied every turn, cutting down trees, clearing away rafts of driftwood, and otherwise making the channel of the wa-ter very deep. With a swift current and course terribly crooked, there was a liability of the boats being dashed to pieces against trees at terribly crooked there was a mainty of the boats being dashed to pieces against trees at every turn, but all are safe. SENATE-EXTRA SESSION. WASHINGTON, March 11. The Senate, after uninteresting proceedings, went into executive session. Washington, March 10.

The Chronicle of to morrow will contain the BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA—PROCLAMATION RESPECTING SOL DIERS ABSENT WITHOUT LEAVE.

EXECTIVE MANSION, March 10. In pursuance of the 26th section of an act of Congress entitled "An Act for Eurolling and Calling out the National Forces," approved on the 3d of March, 1863, I, Abraham Lincoln, President and Commander in-Chief of the coin, President and Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, do here-by order and command that all soldiers enlisted or drafted into the service of the United States, or drafted into the service of the United States, now absent from their regiments without leave, shall forthwith return to their respective regiments; and I do hereby declare and proclaim that all soldiers now absent from their respective regiments without leave, who shall, on or before the 1st of April, 1863, report themselves at any rendezvous designated by the general orders of the War Department No 58, may be restored to their respective No. 58, may be restored to their respective regiments without punishment, except for-feiture of pay during their absence, and all who do not return within the time above specified shall be arrested as deserters and punished as the law provides; and whereas evil disposed and disloyal persons at sundry places have enticed and procured soldiers to desert and absent themselves from their regiments, there-by weakening the strength of the armies and by weakening the strength of the armies and prolonging the war, and giving aid and comfort to the enemy, and cruelly exposing the gallant and faithful soldiers remaining in the ranks to increased hardships and dangers, I do therefore call upon all patriotic and faithful citizens to oppose and resist the aforementioned dangerous and treasonable crimes, and aid in restoring to their regiments all soldiers absent without their regiments all soldiers absent without leave, and to assist in the execution of the act of Congress for enrolling and calling out the national forces and for other purposes, and to support the proper authorities in the prosecution and punishment of offenders against said act, and in suppressing the insurrection, and rebellion. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand. Done at the city of Washington, this 10th day of March, A. D. 1863, and of the independence of the United States the S7th.

Edwin M. Stanton, Sec'v of War. NEW YORK, March 11. The Tribune's Washington special correspondent states that the Committee from the Chamber of Commerce had an interview with the President yesterday, at which they arged him to make arrangements forthwith to issue letters of marque and reprisal under the recent act of Congress. Their arguments are understood to have made a strong impression upon Mr. Lincolu. A contrary view, however. understood to have made a strong impression upon Mr. Lincoln. A contrary view, however, was subsequently urged by Senators who were prominent for their opposition to the passage of the law. They represented to the President the dangers of a foreign war, in case he should do what was asked of him.

The subject is understood to have been before the Cabinet at its meeting to-day.

The Times dispatch states that nine citizens of Fairiax were arrested thereto day and sent to the old Capitol prison, charged with having piloted the rebels in the late raid upon that place.
